Summer School
of Slavonic Studies

4 July 2022 – 29 July 2022

Poděbrady, Czech Republic

Summer School of Slavonic Studies Charles University ILPS

The Summer School of Slavonic Studies (SSSS ILPS CU) is intended for applicants from the general public interested in Czech language, ranging from beginners to advanced students (levels A1 to B2).

It combines:

- an intensive course of the Czech language
- a wide variety of lectures
- cultural and sports activities

The course graduates will obtain a certificate of attendance.

Applicants have to be older than 18 years to take part (younger students need to be accompanied by their legal representative). Under exceptional circumstances you can register for a part of the course as well.

Course duration

4 July 2022 – 29 July 2022

The Summer School is open to holders of scholarships granted by the Czech Ministry of Education, Youth and Sports.

Course fee and standard cultural program, accommodation and board (meal vouchers) are covered from the scholarship of the Czech Ministry of Education.

Venue

ILPS CU Podebrady has a long history of teaching and hosting students both within the academic year and during the summer courses.
Podebrady is located an hour's drive from the Prague airport, it is a lovely spa town with a colonnade, many parks, restaurants and lively cultural and social life. The course itself takes place in the heart of Poděbrady at a 14th century castle with a large garden used for a variety of student activities.

Accommodation

Accommodation is provided in a hotel-style standard and offers twin rooms en-suite and a shared kitchen.

Course program

- intensive course of Czech for foreigners (100 classes / 4 weeks)
- lectures on Czech history, culture, literature
- trips and excursions (all-day or half-day)
- social evenings

We also offer the course as a language tuition without the accompanying program. You can choose the variant in the online application.
